

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A grip portion is formed by a pair of half-split grip portions and grips an end portion of a tubular cable cover exteriorly mounted on a cable when the half-split grip portions are joined. A clamp portion is formed by a pair of half-split clamp portions and clamps the cable exposed from the end portion when the half-split clamp portions are joined. A clamp protrusion is formed on an inner surface of the clamp portion and clamps the cable exposed from the end portion by pressing the cable in a radial direction.
